ATTRACT MORE CUSTOMERS!

Displays with moving elements are incredibly effective at getting consumers' attention. In a study comparing static vs. motion displays, The P.O.P. Advertising Institute found an average of 44% increased response rate to motion displays, proof that incorporating motion plays a significant role in boosting engagement and sales in retail environments.

Hankscraft will help you design the perfect display to get the most out of your customers' retail space. Contact us today to get started!
